Fish are biting in Sequim—your choice of saltwater or fresh! Plus there are shellfish to gather and the famous Dungeness crab. Local retailers such as Swain's Outdoor sell licenses, or go to <https://fishhunt.dfw.wa.gov>

Hike to the lighthouse on Dungeness Spit, the longest natural sand spit in the U.S. Or take in the view of fields, mountains and waters as you walk the Olympic Discovery Trail (see page 5).

See www.newdungenesslighthouse.com to find out more about visiting the lighthouse.

Wildlife viewing is easy, since elk, deer and other animals are our near neighbors. Eagles, herons, finches and other wild birds can be seen soaring above or roosting in trees along sidewalks and trails.

See page 7 for more about wildlife.

Golf is one of the most popular activities in Sequim. The city features the driest, longest playing season in the state of Washington. Sequim offers two public courses and one private club:

The Olympic National Forest

Sequim is the northern gate to Olympic National Forest (ONF). Within the dense forest you will find high mountain meadows sprinkled with wildflowers. Deep, clear mountain lakes full of trout are scattered throughout the high country. Trails lead to sweeping vistas of sites such as downtown Seattle, Hood Canal, Mt. Baker, Mt. Rainier and the San Juan Islands. Sequim is located between two major trailheads, Gray Wolf and Dungeness. In addition, you can access ONF's Buckhorn Wilderness, which is known by locals as the backdoor to Olympic National Park (ONP).

A pass is required to park your automobile at trailheads. Passes can be purchased at the Sequim Visitor Center, located on the east end of town at 1192 E. Washington St. While at the center, pick up free guides to learn more about camping, hiking and other recreational opportunities. Visit www.fs.fed.us/r6/olympic for more information.

We get less rain than our eastern and western neighbors due to the Rain Shadow provided by the Olympic Mountains. From afar, you can often see a "blue hole" over sunny Sequim.

A rich local bounty...

Farms have been part of the Sequim landscape for decades. Working dairies, alpaca farms, organic vegetable farms and colorful fields featuring every flower imaginable can be found throughout Sequim. We are renowned for our lavender and prize-winning berry crops. Several farms offer tours, U-pick and allow the public to participate in activities throughout the seasons.

Lavender

There's a distinctive smell of lavender throughout the Sequim-Dungeness Valley, especially during the summer months. The valley features the most ideal conditions for growing lavender in the U.S. Sequim's climate is similar to the famous lavender growing region of Provence, France.

Sequim Lavender Festival

In 1995, Sequim farmers began experimenting with lavender in an attempt to save local farmland and open space from development. By 1996, a few lavender farm owners brought their products to the summer Saturday Open Aire Market, where they had their first lavender festival. Farmers demonstrated uses for the herb and sold lavender bundles and products crafted using lavender.

From this humble beginning, the Sequim Lavender Festival grew into one of the premier festivals in the Northwest. The festival is always held on the third

Wineries have been producing distinctive vintages in the Sequim area for more than 25 years. Olympic Cellars Winery is open for tasting year round and hosts numerous events. Lost Mountain Winery is open for tasting during the summer and on weekends the rest of the year.

The Lavender Capital of North America

With over 30 lavender farms, Sequim has the highest concentration of lavender farms in North America.

weekend in July and attracts thousands of lavender lovers. Visitors can tour farms, pick their own lavender, attend the downtown street fair and enjoy music and food.

A Growing Success

The valley now boasts more than 30 farms containing over 160,000 plants combined. Some farms grow lavender purely for oil, while others specialize in floral bundles, sachets, beauty-related products or culinary delights.

Open to the Public!

During the summer, many farms are open to the public for U-pick. Several feature stores offering everything from lavender sachets to ice cream. Farm location, topography, the type of lavender grown and the owner's style make visiting each farm a unique experience.

In-town enjoyments...

Shopping

There are unique gift stores and galleries right in the center of town. Drive from mid-town a few blocks east or west and you'll find additional stores. We've got it all: bookstores, art galleries, florists, a surf shop, pharmacies, camping supplies, groceries and more! Buy keepsakes or stock up on supplies for your camping or fishing trip.

Dining

Feast on native Dungeness crab and other local seafood favorites at one of the many fine restaurants in Sequim. We have a range of dining experiences including traditional American, Japanese, Chinese, Mexican and Northwest cuisines. Many local bed & breakfasts have also developed gourmet signature dishes you'll love.

The Olympic Discovery Trail...

Walking, biking and running are always more enjoyable when you have beautiful scenery to keep you company. The Olympic Discovery Trail between Sequim and Port Angeles provides some of the most brehtaking, scenic views on the North Olympic Peninsula.

The 25+ mile-long section of trail contains well-packed composite or paved trail. The trail meanders through green valleys and across creeks with views of the Olympic Mountains to the south and the Strait of Juan de Fuca to the north. You can bike, hike, walk or even horseback ride (through select sections) through wooded areas and pastureland.

The trail will eventually travel 100 miles—from Port Townsend to Lake Ozette on the Pacific Coast. Since the trail is ever changing, visitors are encouraged to come back to use new sections.

Trail Highlights Learn more at www.olympicdiscoverytrail.com or www.olympicbikeadventure.com

- Don't miss the current starting point of the trail, the Johnson Creek trestle off White Feather Way near John Wayne Marina. The 410-foot-long trestle rests 100 feet above Johnson Creek and was refitted for trail use by Peninsula Trails Coalition volunteers.
- Enjoy three of Sequim's beautiful parks along the trail, off Blake Ave. Carrie Blake Park is home to the Guy Cole mini-convention center, ponds inhabited by ducks, public picnic areas and a wonderful children's playground. Next to Carrie Blake Park is Yamasaki Sister City Park, which features a pond containing a small island with a giant Japanese Peace lantern. The lantern symbolizes the friendship between the people of Yamasaki (Shiso City) and the people of Sequim.

The adjacent Waste Water Reuse Park received a state Environmental Excellence Award. The park features native vegetation, an interpretive center, a band shell for concerts, a fountain and a small pond for radio-controlled boats racing in mini-regattas. Parking available.
- To learn more about the area's bird populations, stop by Railroad Bridge Park. The railroad trestle was saved by volunteer efforts for access to the Dungeness River and now provides a wonderful place to view wildlife. Parking available. • www.dungenessrivercenter.org
- Stop by Robin Hill County Park, located at the halfway mark between Port Angeles and Sequim. The park can provide a wonderful stopping place or a day full of adventure. A trail system, picnic areas and interpretive signs are some of the highlights of the park. Parking available.
- For a spectacular view of the Olympic Mountains overlooking Morris Creek be sure to stop at Deer Park Gateway. This is one of the best places to view fall foliage in the area.
- Enjoy venturing over Morse Creek Trestle. This trestle is also a volunteer-refitted trestle. Parking available.
- When you approach the Morse Creek parking lot, the trail becomes the Port Angeles Waterfront Trail. It runs along the shore of the Strait of Juan de Fuca and follows the Port Angeles waterfront past the Arthur D. Fiero Marine Life Center, the Port Angeles Visitors Center and the ferries to Victoria, British Columbia.
- The trail currently ends at the U.S. Coast Guard Station on Ediz Hook.

Traveling here is easy...

By Air

Visitors arrive by air through Fairchild International Airport (360-452-6226) located in Port Angeles. Kenmore Air (425-486-1257 • www.kenmoreair.com) provides regularly scheduled service to SeaTac Airport via Boeing Field. The Sequim Valley Airport (360-683-4444) is a 3,500-ft. private airport open for public use. Tie downs and aviation gas are available.

By Boat or Ferry

The Port of Port Angeles operates the harbor at John Wayne Marina (360-417-3440 • www.portofpa.com/marinas). This easily accessible boat haven for the sailing or boating traveler is close to downtown Sequim, hotels and restaurants.

The Victoria Express, a passenger-only fast ferry (360-452-8088 • www.victoriaexpress.com), and the Coho Ferry, an auto/passenger ferry (360-457-4491 • www.cohoferry.com), provide daily transportation to Victoria, British Columbia.

Most visitors arrive on Highway 101 via Washington State Ferries (888-808-7977 • www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries).

Buses, Shuttles and Cars

For the traveler arriving by air or sea, Clallam Transit (360-452-4511 • www.clallamtransit.com) has regular bus service on the North Olympic Peninsula from Sequim, Port Angeles and Forks. Sun Taxi (360-683-1872) provides taxi service and Budget Rent-a-Car (360-452-4774) and Enterprise Rent-a-Car (360-417-3083) provide car rental from Port Angeles and Fairchild Airport.

Rocket Transport provides door-to-door shuttle service directly to and from SEATAC airport in Seattle. They serve the Peninsula from Forks to E. Jefferson County. 1-877-697-6258 • www.gorocketman.com

Olympic Bus Lines provides regularly scheduled bus service to Seattle and SeaTac Airport. 360-565-8015 • www.olympicbuslines.com

There is easy highway access to and from the forests and ocean on the west Peninsula and Seattle is just 2 ½ hours east. Driving the Hwy. 101 loop is a favorite route for exploring the entire northern Olympic Peninsula.

Climate

Due to our unique location in the “rain shadow” of the Olympic Mountains, the weather in Sequim is noticeably nicer than in the rest of the area. This “rain shadow” and mild temperatures have made Sequim a very popular retirement and recreation area, and a pleasant tourist destination.

*Many microclimates mean “Dress for any weather!”
On the same day, you can experience semi-arid conditions in Sequim, be drenched in the Hoh Rainforest, or trudge through mountain snow.*

See the wildlife...

Sequim is home to a rich array of wild creatures. Go birding along the shore or keep a lookout for the local elk. The Olympic Game Farm is also a fun visit for the whole family. Don't forget to bring your camera!

Sequim Elk Herd

Roosevelt elk are native to the Olympic Peninsula. One herd comprised of about 100 animals, consider the Sequim area part of their range. When not in the forest, they graze in farm fields and lawns. Although the Sequim elk herd appears to be tame, they are not. Normally, they avoid close contact with people and move away when approached. However, they may show signs of agitation if people get too close, throw things, or when people or cars block what they consider to be an escape route. Caution should be used at all times when viewing the herd.

Since elk roam over a wide area, and split into smaller sub-herds much of the year, it can be difficult to know where they may be viewed. Favorite spots seem to be along Happy Valley Road and surrounding hills, West Sequim Bay Road, Palo Alto Road and north toward Port Williams Road. • www.visitsun.com/elk.html

Birdwatching at the Spit

Sequim is located on one of North America's biggest flyways making it an ideal spot for bird watching. More than 250 species of birds have been spotted soaring above the Dungeness Valley or fishing in the area's waterways. The Dungeness River Audubon Center is located within Sequim to help collect information and educate the public about birds. For a map of good birding spots contact Olympic Peninsula Audubon Society located at Railroad Bridge Park, 2151 West Hendrickson Road (360-681-4076 • www.dungenessrivercenter.org) or stop by the Visitor Center at 1192 E. Washington Street.

Olympic Game Farm

The Olympic Game farm is a wonderful opportunity to get a close look at both endangered and non-endangered animal species, including grizzlies, black bears, lions, zebras and many others. The farm also features a few world-famous animal actors.

As you drive through, many animals will come right up to your window—a very unique experience! Located at 1423 Ward Rd. Visit www.olygamefarm.com to learn more or call 360-683-4295.

From Sequim, you’re close to...

Port Townsend: Ever visited a “Victorian” seaport? Port Townsend can be reached in about 45 minutes by traveling east on U.S. Highway 101, then turning left onto Highway 20. The town has an easy-going, artsy ambiance. The state ferry terminal to Whidbey Island is located here.

Port Angeles: Travel 17 miles west to Port Angeles. The city is the gateway to Olympic National Park and Victoria, British Columbia. Port Angeles Harbor, a naturally deep port, attracts ships from throughout the world. Stroll the waterfront trail, collect seashells on Ediz Hook or learn more about Clallam County’s history by visiting the Museum at the Carnegie, 205 S. Lincoln St.

Victoria B.C., Canada: Hop aboard the Victoria Express, a passenger-only fast ferry, or the M.V. Coho, an auto/passenger ferry, to travel to Canada. The ferries provide easy day trip access to our friendly “foreign” neighbor. You can also catch a convenient ferry to the San Juan Islands. Check the ferry web sites for up-to-date information on schedules, rates and identification requirements for international travel:

www.victoriaexpress.com • www.cohoferry.com

The Hoh Rain Forest: Roosevelt elk wander among giant, moss-draped trees as you stroll fern-lined trails within Olympic National Park’s Hoh Rain Forest. The Hoh is the largest rain forest in the continental U.S. and contains some of the most spectacular stands of undisturbed Sitka spruce and western hemlock trees in the nation. Century-old trees reach upwards 300 feet and measure more than 20 feet in circumference. The rain forest lives up to its name by receiving an astounding 12 to 14 feet of rain annually. A series of trails ranging from easy to strenuous are scattered throughout the Hoh Rain Forest area. Drive time from Sequim is about two hours. The scenic drive travels along beautiful Lake Crescent. If time permits after visiting the rain forest, consider driving a few more miles south along Hwy. 101 to catch a glimpse of the rugged Olympic coastline. There are numerous beaches to stroll and fish within the Kalaloch area.

5-Day Travel Planner In and Around The Sequim-Dungeness Valley

These are just a few of the many things to see and do in the Sequim area. Stop at the Visitor Center for more information. We hope you can enjoy them all!

There is an admission fee to the national park (Hurricane Ridge, etc.). Don't lose that ticket! It is valid for 7 days and you can use it to get into the other entrances to the park—for instance, the Hoh Rain Forest.

The visit to the Dungeness Spit also requires a small fee. The money is used by Fish & Wildlife to provide a healthy wildlife refuge for migrating birds.

■ Day One: visit the farms – No trip to Sequim would be complete without a farm tour. Discover how generations of farmers have used Sequim's fertile soil to grow delicious organic vegetables, create colorful flower fields and make Sequim the "Lavender Capital of North America." Stroll through organic vegetable fields, tour a llama ranch, pick a fragrant bouquet or gather raspberries, strawberries, blackberries and blueberries.

■ Day Two: Tour Downtown Sequim & Savor Local Cuisine – There's no better way to get to know Sequim than spending the day shopping around town. Unique gift stores are within walking distance from the center of town at Sequim Ave. and Washington St. Drive a few blocks east or west from there and you'll find more shopping. Take a break and dine at one of the dozens of restaurants offering traditional American favorites to exquisite international flavors. Then stop at the Museum & Arts Center, 175 W. Cedar St., to view historical exhibits, art and a display on a mastodon discovered locally. On Saturdays, downtown also features the Sequim Open Air Market where local growers sell fresh produce and artisans sell handcrafted wares.

Take a hike! – For a truly unique nature walk, head to the Dungeness National Wildlife Refuge and view the Dungeness Spit — the longest natural sand spit in the nation. If the tide permits, stroll 5.5 miles (one way) to the end of the Spit to the New Dungeness Light Station, built in 1857. Take a snack and bottled water with you and enjoy a beautiful view of the Strait of Juan de Fuca from a picnic table or a piece of driftwood. from the Lighthouse Society volunteers will be happy to show you around. If the 11-mile roundtrip trek to the lighthouse is too much, you can still enjoy strolling the spit to take in the breathtaking view, with its waves, driftwood and marine life.

After visiting the Spit, continue exploring the area by strolling along the Olympic Discovery Trail, located between White Feather Way and Port Angeles (see Page 5). Or soothe your tired legs with a relaxing soak in the whirlpool at Sequim's Aquatic Recreation Center (SARC) on 5th Ave. In addition to these suggested treks, Sequim features three year-round volkssport walks. Maps for the walks can be found at Swain's Outdoor, located at 551 W. Washington St. and at the Sequim Visitor Center.

Other enjoyable walks:

1. Railroad Bridge Park has a decked railroad trestle that spans the Dungeness River.

There's a lovely picnic area and easy access to the river. The Dungeness River Audubon Center is within the park.

2. For a view of impressive sand cliffs and seabirds, stop at Marlyn Nelson County Park at Port Williams. The park, which features a public boat launch, is located at the east end of Port Williams Rd.

■ Day Three: Birding, Kayaking, Biking – Bicyclists of all skill levels will find the Sequim Valley is a great place to enjoy a road or mountain bike ride. The wide and long valley has gentle hills featuring views of the Olympic Mountains and the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Generally, area roads are wide with good shoulders and are not overcrowded with other bicycles or autos. The temperate weather allows cyclists to enjoy year-round cycling opportunities. Mountain bikers will find Olympic National Forest and state Department of Natural Resources roads and trails provide a great place to test their skills. The Olympic Discovery Trail (see page 5) winds through the Dungeness Valley from Sequim to Port Angeles. Please visit www.mikes-bikes.net for more information about biking in the area.

If you love to kayak, grab your paddle and head to Dungeness Spit or Sequim Bay. Calm waters, intriguing inlets and abundant marine life are waiting for you. You're likely to see harbor seals fishing or just basking in the sun. Stop at the Dungeness lighthouse to stretch your legs, take a picture or enjoy a picnic lunch. Landings are easy, but are limited in number by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service. To make arrangements, contact 360-457-8451 or visit www.dungenesskayaking.com.

Sequim is located on one of North America's biggest flyways making it an ideal spot for bird watching. See page 7 for more about birding in Sequim.

■ Day Four: Explore Olympic National Forest – For a true taste of just how rugged Sequim is, visit Olympic National Forest. Sequim is located between two main trailheads: the Gray Wolf and the Dungeness trails. Before heading out, stop at the Sequim Visitor Center to purchase the required day-hike parking pass. Drive along Palo Alto or Louella roads for about 8.1 miles to reach the Dungeness Trail. For the Gray Wolf trailhead, travel about 7.7 miles along Taylor Cut-off and Lost Mountain roads. Both trails provide enjoyable easy hikes. Olympic National Forest officials allow mountain bikes on several trails. To learn more about biking trails see the detailed map at the Sequim Visitor Center.

■ Day Five: Olympic National Park's Hurricane Ridge – During your entire visit to Sequim, the Olympic Mountains have provided a beautiful backdrop. Now, it is time to enjoy a view from the top. Start your day by driving west along U.S. Highway 101 to nearby Port Angeles. Hurricane Ridge is located about 17 miles from Port Angeles and is considered the crown jewel of Olympic National Park. Sunrises and sunsets are particularly beautiful at the Ridge. Even if it is sunny and clear in Sequim, be sure to call the Olympic National Park Visitor Center to check weather conditions above the clouds. Driving time, starting at the Sequim Visitor Center, is about 1 hour and 45 minutes to reach the 5,200-foot elevation Hurricane Ridge. • www.nps.gov/olym • 360-565-3130 360-565-3131 (weather/road info) and www.hurricaneridge.net for ski/snowboarding info
